The
room darkens.
A light flashes across the screen. A once-in-forever moment of time, a never-quite-the-same-again fragment of space has been captured. For one, it may be the breathless excitement of a game, for a second, the warm feeling of belonging, for a third, merely the smile of that special someone. But for all, the setting is the same. The memories may be different now, but in time they will all be mellowed and blended into a single remembrance, that of the place in which were spent four years of excitement and boredom, of silence and gaiety, of laughter
and tears.

What is it that makes a person fascinating, unique, memorable? Is it his thorough knowledge of his field and his ability to plan and carry out an effective lesson? Or is it more than that, a certain undefinable "something," that causes his eyes to glow, his voice to take on a new resonance in the midst of a lecture or heated class discussion? Is it the gentleness, the tenderness in his manner when he reads a poem? Is it the boisterous, almost boyish enthusiasm in bolstering the morale of a faltering class, a "sleeping giant," as he called it?

Mr. Michael Carlos, as advisor and teacher of the Class of '64, is one of those rare individuals who possesses all these qualities—learning, inspiration, gentleness, enthusiasm; those things which have made him memorable not only as a teacher, but also as a man.

The comical Carlos look as he thumbed through the pages of a text, the rising dramatic voice as he drove a point home, the piquant smile as he parried a question with another—such things will we remember of Mr. Carlos.

We may have been criticized for lack of maturity as freshmen, but when Mr. Carlos stepped to the lectern in the gym on a bright sophomore day, his magnetic words alerted all to the awakening of the "sleeping giant." He supplied that extra small restraint or encouragement which, in reflection, played a key role in the success story of our class. With Mr. Carlos, there always was that extra contribution of support for making the important dance or trip an everlasting memory. We were ecstatic as he administered marriage rites at Honi Kau Wiki Wiki, although he was hoarse by the evening's end. We were proud as he received the "Teacher-of-the-Year" Award, elected by his own colleagues. And, above all, we were secure, when our class and its activities were mentioned, that we had the most dynamic adviser of any school group.

In years, much of the now important will be forgotten, but the grimace, the scowl, the smile, the gesture—these will remain to stir the poignant memory of a man dedicated far beyond his calling.

Therefore, we DEDICATE this 1964 GULL to Mr. Michael Carlos.

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

The youth of America is facing today greater opportunities than ever before in our history. Our nation is expecting our young citizens to provide new sources of leadership to allow us to meet the great challenges we face at home and abroad.

In the Plainview-Old Bethpage schools you have been given an opportunity to develop your abilities so that you can effectively adjust to the adult world. However, it must be realized that education is an ever-continuing process and you should seek additional opportunities for formal education and for supplementary education so that you can reach your true potential.

As new graduates, you will find that society will be expecting much more of you than when you were students. You will find that many decisions will be yours alone to make. In the past you could depend almost completely upon your parents and teachers for counsel and guidance, but in your new adult life you will find that other people will start looking to you to help them.

Despite all the talk about the impact of automation in our society, the day is far distant when talent and ability will not be recognized and rewarded. You are most fortunate in that your parents have provided support for a quality education which should assist you greatly as you enter your respective fields of endeavor. It is our belief that you are well equipped educationally to compete with the graduates of the best school systems in the nation.

The class of 1964 should be proud of its scholastic, athletic and other accomplishments. You have been part of the establishment of many traditions which will be long followed in our High School as additional classes come along.

We wish you well as you leave us, and will follow with pride the many individual achievements that we are confident members of your class will attain.

MINISTRATION

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

To the Class of 1964:

It is most appropriate that I repeat for you a quotation from our late President, the beloved John F. Kennedy.

"For of those to whom much is given, much is required. And when at some future date the high court of history sits in judgment on each one of us—recording whether in our brief span of service we fulfilled our responsibilities to the state—our success or failure, in whatever office we may hold, will be measured by the answers to four questions:

"First, were we truly men of courage—with the courage to stand up to one's enemies—and the courage to stand up, when necessary, to one's associates—the courage to resist public pressure, as well as private greed?

"Secondly, were we truly men of judgment—with perceptive judgment of the future as well as the past—of our own mistakes as well as the mistakes of others—with wisdom to know that we did not know, and enough candor to admit it?

"Third, were we truly men of integrity—men who never ran out on either the principles in which they believed or the people who believed in them—men who believed in us—men whom neither financial gain nor political ambition could ever divert from the fulfillment of our sacred trust?

"Finally, were we truly men of dedication—with an honor mortgaged to no single individual or group, and compromised by no private obligation or aim, but devoted solely to serving the public good and the national interest?"

Our hope is that each of you might live by this creed.

SPORTS . . .

At the Plainedge game. Fullback Bob Opatowsky carrying the ball and Halfback Ed Hirsch blocking.

Smashing . . . a touchdown . . . the echo rolls on . . .

Spirit surged through our crowd on that first Saturday as the warm sun shone over the beautifully turfed field. The enemy was Syosset, —as red as Plainedge and just as much a rival to the Plainview players. From the first play, a quick touchdown for Syosset, it appeared that the fate of the Gulls was following the disparaging predictions of the local newspapers. Suddenly the defense picked up the offense contributed a Buckman touchdown, and with a magnificent display of grit in the face of late-game injuries, 7-7 tie stood as the clock ran out. It wasn't a Plainview win—but it was, perhaps, the defensive battle in the league that season. Surely, the Plainview line of Peterson, Shapiro, Glickman, and Schiering will remember it. With Dennis Naughton at the helm we had our good days and bad in the rain and mud. Clarke, Hicksville, Plainedge—the bad; Farmingdale, MacArthur, Lutheran, North Shore—the good. Through the months, the Saturdays were highlighted by John Buckman's exciting 7-point contributions, Pat Hamilton's desperation tackles, valuable but intermittent play of Peter Katzburg and Alan Hoffman.

The last game of the season, the Thanksgiving Day showdown against Plainedge will be most remembered. The hopes were high, the band played on, but the first four plays of the Red Devils soon dampened the hopes of Plainview's most ardent optimists. Few glittering moments lit up that bleak afternoon but that will disappear with time. The shouts, the smell in the air, the strains of "When the Gulls Go Marching In"—these will remain as memories.

It looks like the end of the line for playmaker Tobin.

Worry is mirrored on each player's face during a timeout.

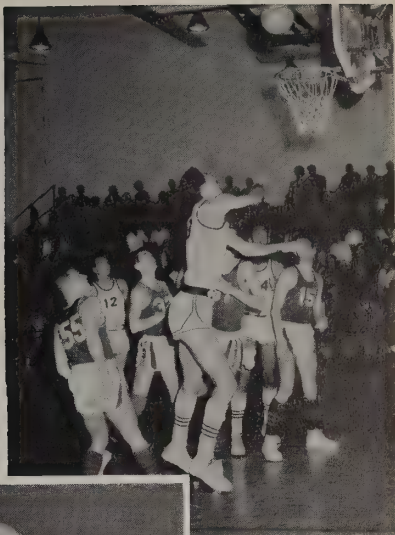

Coach Simmons sits with the familiar towel waiting for a turn for the better.

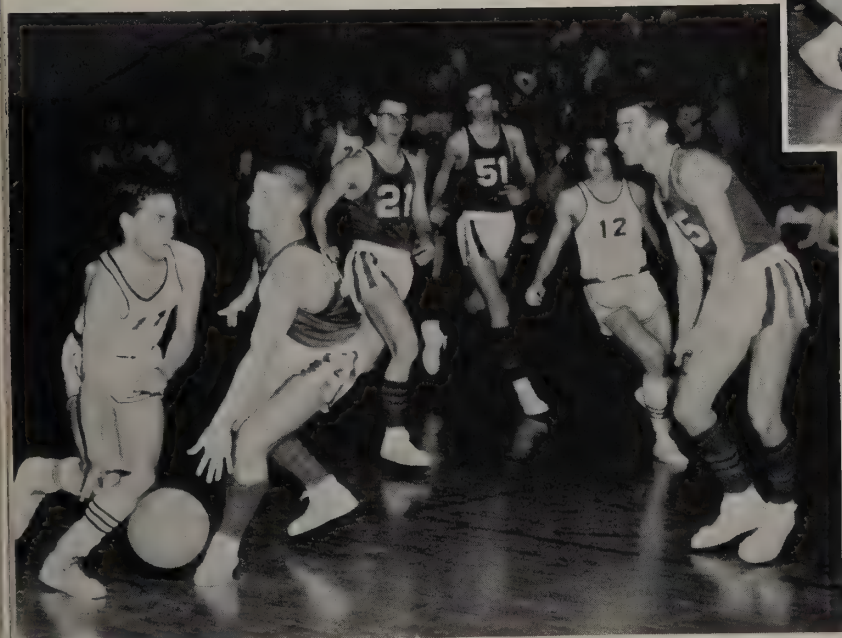

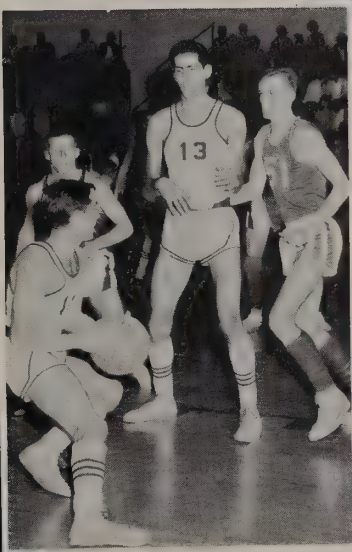

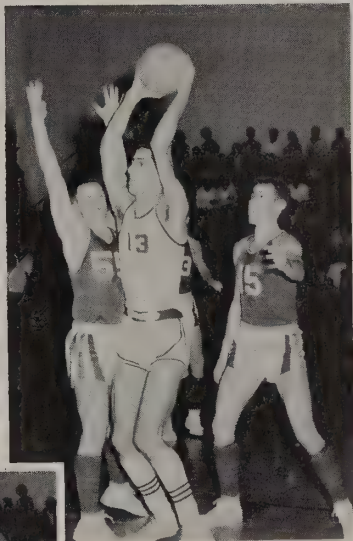

Rich Tobin flings the ball upward, as all tense for the rebound.

Although the past season can hardly be called a successful one, the basketball team, coached by Mr. John Simmoms, did have its bright moments. Junior Howard Flicker's often brilliant ball handling had defenders scurrying while senior Bob Grosso's height and scoring punch were a mainstay throughout. Perhaps the high spot of the season was the team's victory against Clarke. Six-five sophomore Jeff Chase combined with six-seven Bob Grosso and five-eight Howie Flicker overwhelmed opposition. Howie's superb ball control, flashy passing, and exciting driving had the crowd gasping. with a straightaway jump shot that invariably found its mark. Flicker broke the twenty-point plateau to the crowd's chagrin. But pyrotechnic dribbling does not make a basketball team, and it was Grosso's nineteen point average, placing him among the county's scoring leaders, that carried the team through the campaign. From his left forward position, Grosso launched his hook shots and short jumps and pulled down the bread-and-butter rebounds. Through good and bad, the playing team of Ira Zimmerman, guard Richie Tobin, versatile Pete Karika, and subs Bill Gunther and Bob Wolf were the other green and white players on the square well-notched stage.

The torch is passed...

"...Let the word go forth from this time and place, to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans—born in this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a hard and bitter peace, proud of our ancient heritage..."

JOHN F. KENNEDY, INAUGURAL ADDRESS
JANUARY 20, 1961

JOHN FITZGERALD
KENNEDY

1917-1963

Coffin that passes through lanes and streets,
Through day and night with the great cloud
darkening the land,
With the pomp of the inloop'd flags with the cities
draped in black,
With the show of the States themselves as of crape-veil'd women standing,
With processions long and winding and the flambeaus of the night,
With the countless torches lit, with the silent sea of faces and the unbared heads,
With the waiting depot, the arriving coffin, and the sombre faces,
With dirges through the night, with the thousand voices rising strong and solemn,
With all the mournful voices of the dirges pour'd
around the coffin,
The dim-lit churches and the shuddering organs—
where amid these you journey,
With the tolling tolling bells' perpetual clang,
Here, coffin that slowly passes,
I give you my sprig of lilac.

—From "When Lilacs Last in the Dooryard Bloom'd" by Walt Whitman on the occasion of Abraham Lincoln's assassination in 1865

East meets West as President Kennedy speaks with Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko. 1963 saw the signing of a new hope for permanent peace, the Test Ban Treaty.

"All men are created equal." Attorney General Robert Kennedy speaks at August's Freedom March on Washington.

A nation's conscience erupts. The Negro seeks equality.

Capitol doings were in the public eye the past year with the revelation of the Bobby Baker scandals shaking the Senate's foundations.

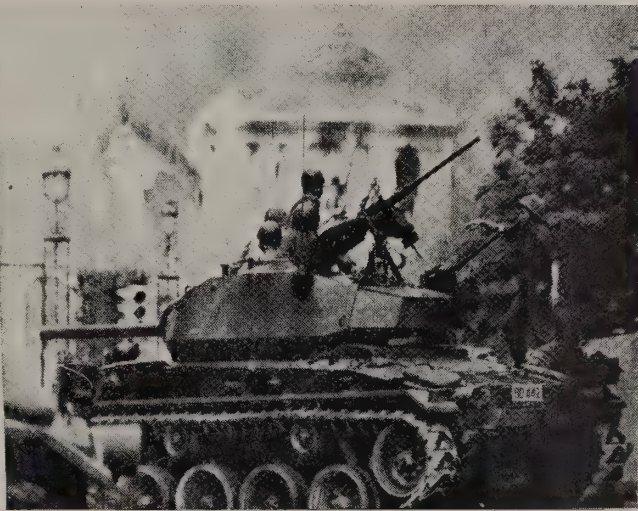

Tragedy stalked the nation last November. Here Lyndon Johnson takes the oath of office after President Kennedy's assassination.

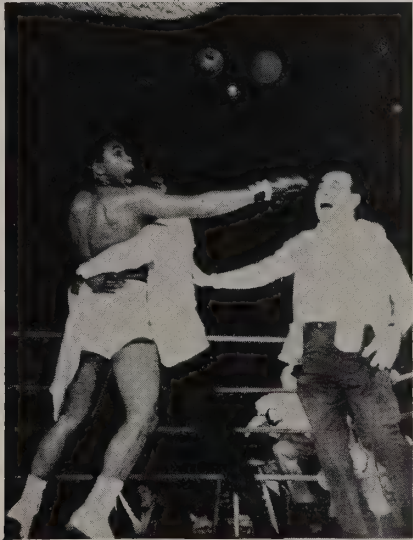

The French enigma—Charles DeGaulle. France recognized Red China at the beginning of 1964.

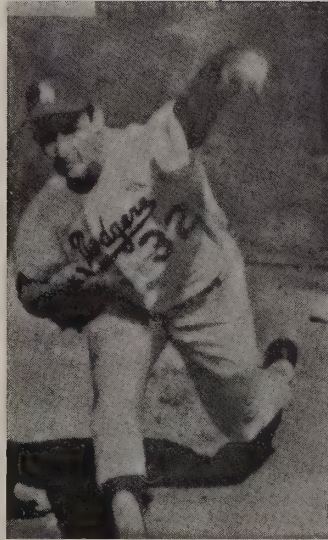

"Smokers beware," said the Surgeon General. A brief scare and, in a matter of weeks, the cigarette industry was booming as ever.

Let's see, General what's-his-name deposed who's-that-now who may be having trouble with I-don't-know . . . The Vietnam merry-go-round rode merrily along.

The grrr-eatest: Young Clay defeats Goliath Liston.

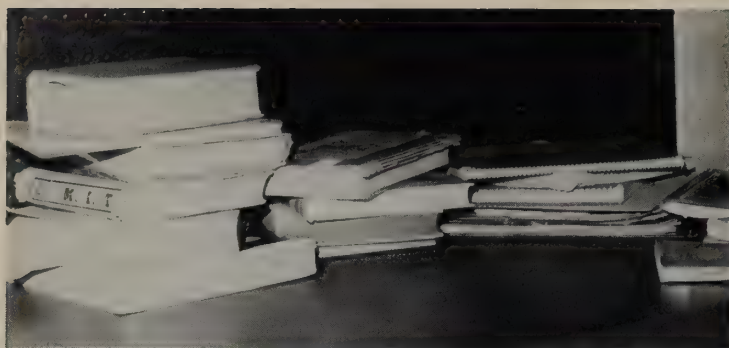

Strike one. Strike two. Strike three. The Dodgers' Konifax was the story of the 1963 World Series.

Two churches meet in the Holy Land. Pope Paul VI greets the head of the Greek Orthodox religion.

The British are coming! Man the record players! The Beatles storm the country.
